HongKong: Nalingaw, gimingaw

Pasado alas 6 na sa buntag. Off na ko kay graveyard shift man ko. Na-atrasado ko'g guwa kay akong gitibas ug basa ang atong mga files sa Tanjayanon Newsletter sa internet. Makalingaw, apan makamingaw pud. . . . there are quite a few of us Tanjayanons here in Hong Kong. Pwede bang mo-subscribe sa atong ATN? Regards to all Tanjayanons.

Pampanga: Gipa-baliko ang dila

I've almost forgotten how to speak our favorite Binisayang Tinanjayanon, until I found our Newsletter in the net. Mao nang ako gayung kusgon ug basa dalang pa-angay ug pabaliko sa akong dila aron moguwa ang pagka-Tanjayanon, he, he, he! Here in Pampanga, I speak what the Kapampangans speak. I also eat what the Kapampangans (cook and) eat. But deep down in my heart, I am purong Tanjayanon – ti-unay and still very much in love with the beautiful and fascinating town of my birth.

Wala ako'y jokes kay dili intawon ko kama-o mo-estorya Kusog lang kong mokage-ke ug katawa sa mga komedya, labina gayud ug taga-Tanjay ang magsinapat, wala gayud makalupig.

Just want to say hello! sa manga tanjayanon diha ug malipayon bag-ong tuig (kada tuig gayud) kaninyong tanan. Mubo lang kini para tambal lang sa kamingaw!!! Kumusta lang ako sa tanang mga taga tanjay bisan asa kamo nagalaag-laag karon sa tibo-ok kalibutan! Kon mahidagsa kamo unya diri sa amo sa Bay Area (San Francisco), ingna lang ko kay lingawon ko kamo, isuroy, i-shopping, i-pangita'g kalipay, etc. (ha, ha, ha). Bitaw, sig, ayo-ayo lang kamo diha. . . bye!
